

CURRICULUM VITAE

Bojana Beović

Prof Bojana Beović, MD, PhD graduated at Medical School University in Ljubljana in 1982 where she obtained her master degree and PhD. She passed the board exam in infectious diseases at the University Medical Centre Ljubljana. She was further educated in pharmacology at the University of Zagreb, Croatia. Since 1986, she has been employed at the Department of Infectious Diseases at the University Medical Centre in Ljubljana. She was attending physician at the intensive care unit from 1993 to 2004. From 2005 to 2008 she was assistant medical director of University Medical Centre in Ljubljana. Currently, she is the head of the ID Consultancy Service.

From 2006 to 2009 she was the president of the Health Council at the Ministry of Health of Slovenia. From 2004 to 2019 she was the president of the Slovenian Society of Chemotherapy and since 2005 she has been the vice-president of the Intersectoral Coordination Mechanism for Prudent Use of Antimicrobials at the Ministry of Health. Since 2008 she is the head of the Antibiotic Committee in UMC Ljubljana. At the European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious diseases (ESCMID), she was the honorary secretary of the ESCMID Study Group for Antibiotic stewardship (ESGAP) from 2009 to 2014, and the chair of ESGAP from 2014 to 2018. From 2012 to 2017 she was the chair of Educational Council at the Medical Chamber of Slovenia. She is full professor of infectious diseases at the Medical School, University of Ljubljana. She was the organizer and co-organizer of several international and national scientific meetings and educational courses, and a speaker at many regional and international meetings. As visitor she was active at the University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics, USA and at University hospital in Trieste, Italy. Her current focus of interest in research is antibiotic stewardship, and antibiotic therapy.